

EM CME – Trauma

CME/CE credit: Up to 16 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™

Length of time for completion: 16+ hours

Number of questions to complete: All available questions

Original release date: 1/25/2025

Termination date: 1/24/2027

Last review date: 4/5/2026

Planning Committee:

Amy Rontal, MD

Director of Medical Content, Rosh Review/Blueprint Prep

Assistant Professor of Emergency Medicine, William Beaumont University

Hospital/Oakland University William Beaumont School of Medicine

Christine Zink, MD

Content Champion - Emergency Medicine, Blueprint Test Prep/Rosh Review

Emergency Medicine Physician, Baptist Emergency Hospitals, San Antonio, TX

Adam Rosh, MD

Emergency Medicine Physician

Founder, RoshReview.com

Target Audience: Emergency medicine physicians

Learning Objectives: Upon completion of this educational activity, participants will be able to:

- Comprehensively review the core content of emergency medicine with a focus on trauma medicine.
- Effectively translate the acquired academic knowledge into improved diagnostics and subsequently implement a better treatment plan for their patients.

Accreditation:

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the accreditation requirements and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) through the joint providership of Wayne State University School of Medicine and Rosh Review. The Wayne State University School of Medicine is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Designation of Credit:

The Wayne State University School of Medicine designates this enduring material for a maximum of 16 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Participants should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Disclosure Information

Wayne State University School of Medicine requires that everyone who is in a position to control the content of an education activity to disclose all financial relationships with ineligible companies. “Ineligible companies” are those whose primary business is producing, marketing, selling, re-selling, or distributing healthcare products used by or on patients.

Disclosure: No individuals in control of CME content have any relevant financial relationships with ineligible companies.

Mitigation of Relevant Financial Relationships: Rosh Review reviews all disclosed relationships and mitigates any relationships found to be relevant to the CME content. In this activity, no individual in control of CME content disclosed any financial relationships that were relevant and required mitigation.

Investigational and/or Off-Label Use of Commercial Products and Devices:

There is no mention of investigational and/or off-label use of commercial products.

Acknowledgment of Commercial Support: There is no commercial support received for this educational activity.

Technical Requirements: Internet connection

How to start earning CME:

1. Review the introductory information on this page.
2. Sign in to your account with the email address and password you created.
3. Select the Create Exam tab and decide on the number of questions you want to take per exam. If it's a Boost Exam, you can find it under the “Boost Exams” tab.
4. Complete the number of questions detailed in your degree and package.

How to claim your CME certificate:

You can claim and download your certificate from your Rosh Review account:

1. Go to the Account Subscriptions & Settings tab (only on desktop/laptop).
2. Select Claim next to the subscription package name.
3. Attest to having completed the CME module and reviewing the CME information found for your product below.
4. Complete the post-activity evaluation and practice impact assessment.
5. Download your certificate.

For CME-related questions about this activity, contact us at roshsupport@blueprintprep.com